ZGPT.AILAWINC.COM PRIVACY POLICY

This Privacy Policy was last updated on Thursday, February 1, 2024.

Welcome to ZGPT.AI LAW, INC. This Privacy Policy is here to help you understand how we handle your personal information when you visit and use zgpt.ailawinc.com ("the Website"). It outlines the types of information we collect, our practices for using, sharing, and protecting that information, and the rights you have regarding your personal data.

By engaging with our Website, you're agreeing to the practices described in this Policy. We're committed to respecting your privacy and adhering to the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), and other relevant privacy laws. These commitments ensure we protect your rights and provide transparency about how your information is used.

If you have any reservations about our Privacy Policy or the handling of your personal data, please refrain from using our Website. Your privacy is our priority, and this Policy serves as our promise to you to uphold the highest standards of data protection and compliance.

1. Location/Jurisdiction

Location and Governing Law

Our website, zgpt.ailawinc.com, is operated from our headquarters in King County, Washington, USA. By using our Website, you agree that any issues related to your use of the Website will be governed by the laws of the State of Washington and the federal laws of the United States, disregarding conflict of law principles.

Legal Proceedings

Should any legal action arise from or relate to our Privacy Policy or services, it will be addressed exclusively in the state and federal courts of King County, Washington. By using our Website, you consent to this jurisdiction and venue, waiving any objections based on lack of personal jurisdiction or any other basis.

Continuity of Policy

If any part of this Privacy Policy is deemed unenforceable, the remaining sections will continue to be in effect. We will replace any unenforceable provision with one that is enforceable and that most closely matches the intent of the original provision.

Resolving Disputes

Disputes related to these terms or the Website will be resolved through binding arbitration under the Federal Arbitration Act, conducted by a neutral arbitrator and administered by an entity like the American Arbitration Association. This arbitration will occur in a mutually agreed-upon location and its outcome will be final.

No Group Litigation

Arbitration will be conducted on an individual basis. Group litigations of any kind, including class actions, will not be permitted. Claims must be made individually and not as part of any collective proceedings.

International Compliance and Use

We comply with major data protection regulations:

GDPR: For users in the EU and EEA, we adhere to the GDPR, ensuring your data rights are respected.

CCPA: For users in California, USA, we follow the CCPA, offering specific rights concerning your personal information.

International Users: If you access our Website from outside the United States, you agree to follow all local laws regarding online conduct, as well as U.S. export laws.

Global Data Protection

Beyond GDPR and CCPA, we recognize and follow other applicable privacy laws in jurisdictions where our Website is accessed. This includes laws on data protection, consent, breach notifications, and data transfers.

Users should verify the information before relying on it for legal decisions or advice.

4. Information We Collect

To enhance your experience and provide you with personalized services, ZGPT.AI LAW, INC. collects certain personal information when you use our Website. This data helps us to understand your needs better, improve our services, and communicate effectively. Here's what we collect:

Identity Details: This includes your first and last name, allowing us to personalize our communication and services to you.

Contact Information: We collect your mailing address, email address, and phone number to facilitate various forms of communication, ranging from newsletters to service quotes.

Location Data: Understanding your geographical location helps us tailor our services and advice to your jurisdiction's specific legal requirements.

Technical Information: Collecting computer or device information helps us optimize our Website's performance across different technologies and improve your user experience.

Professional Information: When you provide business information, it enables us to understand your professional needs and offer relevant legal services.

Rest assured, the collection and use of this information are guided by our commitment to privacy, security, and compliance with applicable laws.

We may also collect non-personally identifiable information such as your IP address, browser type, and operating system to optimize our Website and improve your experience.

5. Age Requirement for Website Use

Our website is designed for and restricted to individuals who are 18 years of age or older. In alignment with our commitment to not collect personal information from minors, we strictly enforce this age requirement for all users:

Underage Use Prohibited: If you are under 18, please do not use this website or submit any personal information to us. We take your privacy seriously and actively work to prevent the unintentional collection of data from underage individuals.

Active Monitoring and Action: Upon discovering that personal information from anyone under the age of 18 has been collected, we will promptly delete such data from our records. This is part of our dedication to comply with legal standards and protect the privacy of all users. We encourage parents and guardians to monitor their children's online activities and help enforce our age policy by instructing minors not to use our website or provide personal information without consent.

6. How We Share Your Information

At ZGPT.AI LAW, INC., we value your privacy and are committed to safeguarding your personal information. In certain circumstances, we share your data with trusted third-party service providers to enhance our services. These instances include, but are not limited to, the following services:

Web Hosting: To ensure our website is accessible and runs smoothly.

Analytics Services: For understanding how our website is used and identifying ways to improve your experience.

Marketing Services: To provide you with information about services that might interest you.

Safeguards and Limitations:

Necessary Sharing Only: We strictly limit the sharing of your information to what is necessary for our service providers to fulfill their responsibilities to us.

Protection of Your Data: All third-party service providers are bound by contract to maintain the confidentiality and security of your personal information. They are strictly prohibited from using your data for any purposes other than those specified by us.

We take these measures to ensure that your personal information is always treated with the utmost care and respect, in line with our privacy commitments and legal obligations.

7. Our Stance on Selling Personal Information

At ZGPT.AI LAW, INC., we stand firm in our commitment to your privacy. We want to make it unequivocally clear:

No Selling of Personal Information: We do not, and will not, sell your personal information to third parties. Your trust and privacy are paramount to us, and we believe in maintaining that integrity in all our operations.

This principle is a cornerstone of our privacy practices, ensuring that your personal data remains protected under our care.

8. Use of Cookies and Tracking Technologies

While ZGPT.AI LAW, INC. itself does not deploy cookies on our website, we partner with third-party service providers and business affiliates, like Google Analytics, that may use cookies and similar tracking technologies. These are used to gather information about your interactions with our site. The aim is to:

Analyze User Behavior: Understanding how you use our website helps us identify areas for improvement and tailor our services more effectively to your needs.

Enhance Service Delivery: Insights gained from this analysis are crucial in refining the user experience and offering content that is more aligned with your interests.

Managing Cookies:

Browser Settings: You have the ability to control the use of cookies through your web browser settings. Disabling cookies can be done at any time, though it's important to note that this action may impact your experience on our website, affecting its functionality and the personalization of services.

We encourage you to review your browser's help documentation to learn more about managing cookies settings. Our commitment to transparency ensures you have the information needed to make informed decisions about your privacy preferences.

9. Scope of This Privacy Policy and External Links

This Privacy Policy applies exclusively to ZGPT.AI LAW, INC.'s website. We want to remind our users that:

External Websites: Our website may contain links to other websites or platforms. It's important to note that these external sites are governed by their own privacy policies and practices, not by ours. We encourage you to review the privacy policies of any linked sites before sharing your personal information.

Acknowledgment: By accessing or using these external websites or platforms, you acknowledge and agree to be bound by their respective privacy policies. Our inclusion of such links does not imply endorsement of their content, or any association with their operators.

Service-Specific Terms

Certain services offered through our website may be subject to additional terms of service:

Separate Agreements: Engaging with specific services on our website, such as requesting a quote, may require you to agree to additional terms. These terms are designed to clearly outline the service provisions, including any legal obligations or requirements.

Jurisdiction-Specific Agreements: For services that necessitate legal agreements, such as requesting a quote, you will receive a separate contract tailored to your jurisdiction. This contract will detail the services to be provided and identify your designated legal counsel, licensed to practice within your jurisdiction.

We ensure that any additional terms will be clearly presented to you at the point of engagement, maintaining our commitment to transparency and informed consent.

10. Policy Updates and Your Acceptance

ZGPT.AI LAW, INC. is dedicated to maintaining the highest standard of privacy practices, and as such, we may update this Privacy Policy to reflect changes in our procedures or regulatory changes. Here's how we manage policy updates:

Notification of Changes: We will post any updates or changes to this Policy on our website, ensuring you have immediate access to the revised terms.

Effectiveness of Changes: Updates to this Policy become effective as soon as they are posted. By continuing to use our website after an update, you are agreeing to the updated terms.

Reviewing the Policy: To ensure you remain informed about how we protect your personal information, we recommend reviewing this Policy periodically. Staying updated on any changes helps you understand your rights and our commitments to safeguarding your data. Your ongoing use of our website following any policy updates signifies your acceptance of these changes. We commit to transparency in all updates to ensure you are always informed about how your personal information is used and protected.
